Sharing the Love with our Community Partners

February is the perfect month to showcase how Carmeuse Lime & Stone shares the love with our community partners. Corporate sponsorship and community involvement are important values at Carmeuse. Our Company has a long history of active community involvement in the towns and communities where it operates mines and manufacturing facilities.

Carmeuse and its employees play a vital role in improving the communities in which they live and work. This is evident in the contributions that the company and its employees have made in Mason County, Pendleton County, Fleming County, Bracken County, Campbell County, Lewis County, and other Kentucky communities where it operates facilities and where Carmeuse employees and their families live.

Carmeuse employees also contribute their time and money to local civic and charitable organizations as well as provide a “helping hand” to neighbors in need. For instance, when a tornado struck Campbell and Pendleton counties and surrounding communities last year, Carmeuse employees volunteered to help their neighbors dig out and clean up after the natural disaster and Carmeuse paid for contractors to demolish three homes that were severely damaged by the tornado that neither the homeowner nor the county government could afford to do on their own.

Below is some of the other love we have shared in recent years:

- $60,000 gifts to Maysville and Lewis County Boys and Girls Clubs over a three-year period.
- $24,000 gift to Mason County Schools for an outdoor classroom and amphitheater and other school donations.
- $10,000 gift to Orangeburg VFD to buy a new fire truck.
- $10,000 each year to sponsor the regional mine rescue competition in Maysville.
